WOOD HANDLE STAINLESS DOUBLE EDGE RAZOR

PRODUCT # WS-D2S

MADE IN JAPAN

ABOUT MATERIALS

All metal parts are made from stainless steel, which resists dirt and rust.

The handle and stand are made from Resin-Impregnated Wood Laminate, which is created by slowly soaking natural wood in resin.

This maintains the natural texture of wood while also offering excellent water resistance and preventing deformation or warping.

Accordingly, long usage results in a distinct texture for a truly unique razor found nowhere else in the world.

REPLACEABLE BLADES

FEATHER DOUBLE EDGE RAZOR—HI-STAINLESS

These blades—the souls of our razors—are produced in Seki, a city that was traditionally known for manufacturing Japanese swords. These double-edged razor blades, with a thickness of just 0.1 millimeter, embody the pride of Japanese craftsmen and offer fine quality that appeals to fans in Japan and across the world.

The “FEATHER” mark engraved on the blade is a testament of trust.

For your replaceable blades, we recommend FEATHER HI-STAINLESS.

Blade thickness: 0.1mm

PACKAGING

The packaging is decorated with lacquer—a painting material used in Japan since ancient times—to express the unique Japanese aesthetic that draws the eyes of people all over the world.

A craftsman applies multiple layers of lacquer to create fantastic luster and rich color, and each package has a unique pattern.

This lacquered packaging embodies our desire to have eternal connections with our customers through our one-of-a-kind products.

FEATHER® was founded in 1932 and it was the first Japanese corporation to manufacture razors. We carry out thorough management of the process spanning from production to shipping at our own factories in Japan. In this way, we are continually dedicated to offering quality products that could only be made in Japan. Our precision sharpening technologies have earned us absolute trust not only in the field of razors, but also professional fields such as medical care, haircutting, and beauty.

At FEATHER we have never compromised our quality, even slightly, in any era. We will continue offering products with new value that have never before been manufactured in Japan.
